

Gifts in Your Will or Trust

Making a gift to Bloodworks in your will or trust is the easiest and most popular way to support our lifesaving work. Your attorney can include the necessary language in your will, a codicil to your will or your revocable living trust. Here are suggested clauses to include, which you should review with your attorney:

Language for Specific Gifts of Money or Assets or a Portion of the Estate

I give, devise and bequeath [identify here a specific sum of money, a specific asset or portion of the residual estate] to Bloodworks, a 501(c)(3) public, nonprofit corporation of the State of Washington, located at 921 Terry Avenue, Seattle, WA 98104.

Language for Restricted Gifts: Supporting a Specific Program or Area of Need:

"I give, devise and bequeath [identify here a specific sum of money, a specific asset or portion of the residual estate] to Bloodworks, a 501(c)(3) public, non-profit corporation of the State of Washington, located at 921 Terry Avenue, Seattle, WA 98104. This bequest may be combined with Bloodwork's other funds for purposes of investment and reinvestment and shall be used in support of [describe the general purpose, such as emergency preparedness, equipment or research].

If at any time in the judgment of the Board of Trustees it becomes impractical or impossible to carry out this purpose, then the Board of Trustees of Bloodworks may use this bequest for such other similar purposes as shall be determined to be consistent with my wishes and intentions."
