

Miho Teruya Dougherty, MD

Oncologist/Hematologist
Willamette Valley Cancer Institute

Dr. Miho Teruya Dougherty is a practicing Oncologist/Hematologist at the Willamette Valley Cancer Institute in Eugene, Oregon. Open-minded and caring, she believes in providing patients with personalized care focused on their individual needs. “I want my patients to feel comfortable talking with me about their questions and concerns, feel confident that I understand and respect their goals.” Prior to this, Miho worked as a Hematology/Oncology Fellow at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

As a member of the American Society of Hematology and the American Society of Oncology, Dr. Dougherty stays up-to-date and is motivated by advancements in the ever-changing field of cancer and care. She is also interested in Blood Bank/Transfusion Medicine and is a member of the Blood Utilization Committee at the PeaceHealth hospitals in the Lane County area. She joined the Bloodworks Northwest Board of Trustees in 2021.

Miho earned her BA from Boston University, a Master of Public Health from the University of Texas Houston and her MD from Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

Outside of work, Miho enjoys spending time with her family listening to music, going hiking and paddle boarding.